DESIGN LIMITED

German Speaking Packaging Quality Control Manager

The position

An exciting opportunity has arisen for a German speaking Quality Control Manager to join our multinational Design agency specialising in own label packaging design, for an international client team, based in Purley, Surrey.

You will be responsible for the complete administration of our quality control checking procedure, which involves checking design aspects within artworks against our Brand Guidelines for all types of German language food and non-food packaging. You will use existing Brand Guidelines to check all aspects of the design, layout, font and colours. You will need extremely high levels of precision and a keen eye for detail.

Skills and Experience

You must be fluent in spoken and written German.

You must be articulate, have an excellent telephone manner, proven communication skills dealing with clients over the phone and in writing in both German and English.

You are self-motivated, highly organised, able to manage conflicting time-lines and meet constant deadlines, coupled with a passion for building strong working relationships.

Precision and attention to detail are essential.

You will possess excellent communication skills as you will feedback to internal account managers and artworkers on all aspects of the design and be able to concisely advise on any required amendments.

Experience with packaging design and a good knowledge of Illustrator, Photoshop, Acrobat and InDesign would be highly advantageous but are not essential.

You will possess a relevant degree in design, artwork or language.

Previous experience in Quality Control or translation would be advantageous, ideally within a creative environment, or for a retailer.

Please email a full CV with covering letter detailing your experience, what interests you about this position & your salary expectations to careers@tjarksandtjarks.co.uk
